

A Catalogue of Chymical Medicines sold by R. Rotheram at the Golden Ball in Sweetings Alley in Cornhill, near the Royal Exchange, London.

1. An Elixir of Saffron.

10287

THis Medicine powerfully corrects and expels poyson, cures Feavors, Consumptions, Coughs, Spitting of Blood and Matter, Strengthens weak Stomachs: It wonderfully invivens Nature, and drives out all offensive disease matter by Sweat and Urine: It eases Pains, and causes quiet Rest: Its an excellent Medicine to prevent (and cure) the Small-pox, Measles, and all Pestilential Diseases, and is a great Cordial.

Price of this Elixir of Saffron is Half a Crown the quarter Glass, Five Shillings the half Glass, and Ten Shillings the whole Glass.

The manner of taking it, is from 40 to 40 Drops, in a Glass of Rack, or dropt upon loaf Sugar until the Sugar be wet wth it. Times to take it, in the morning fasting on hour after Dinner, and last at Night.

2. An Elixir of Balme and Mint.

THis Elixir is a wonderful renovating Medicine, it quickens, strengthens, and invivens all the Faculties of Nature, making a cheerful Heart and lively Countenance, prevents and cures Diseases; and did the world know the many Vertues that are in the Volatile Salts and Sulphurs of Mints and Balm (when separated from superfluities) they would esteem them beyond all Vegetables in the World; as by Experience will be found in the Use of them, &c.

Price of this Elixir of Balme and Mint, is 3 s. the half Glass, 6 s. the whole Glass.

The manner of taking it is from 20 to 40 Drops, four or five times a day in Rack, or dropt upon Sugar, as aforesaid.

3. An Elixir of Marjoram.

Marjoram is an Excellent Medicine in all Diseases of the Brain and Nerves: As Convulsions, Palsies, Falling Sickness, Deafness, Pains in the Head, &c.

Price of this Elixir of Marjoram is 3 shillings the Glass.

Dose from 10 to 20 Drops in Rack, or dropt upon Sugar.

4. Elixir of Horse-Radish.

Horse-Radish far exceeds Scurvey grass in curing the Scurvey, Dropsie, Stone, or Gravel, or any other Disease appropriated to Scurvey grass, or the Spirit thereof, by reason it abounds more with Volatile Salt, and by partaking more of the bitter property which makes it a greater Opener of Obstructions and Allayer of Sharpness: and being prepared as this Elixir is, exceeds any Distilled Spirits; for in such preparations no Glass is able to contain the volatile Mercurial Salt, when agitated by that force of Fire which must be used in Common Distillation: for indeed all Vegetable Bodies so prepared, lose their Natural Gifts, and are no more the Medicine they were when at Unity in the Concrete. Therefore the better to inform the Reader touching the Difference between such a Spirit and an Elixir of a Plant or Herb, know that an Elixir is an Essential seminal balsamick Liquor (by some called the Crassi of a Plant) raised to a new or regenerate life, after putrefaction in a proper Dissolvent; and this separated purity I call Elixir, and such preparations as these are fitted for Natures Reception; that she may dispose of them for those great Uses and Ends they were ordained, &c.

Take half a Spoonful of this Elixir of Horse-Radish Morning and Night in a little White Wine, or with Sugar, &c. Note, Any may take these Elixirs in Spring Water, or Water and Sugar, Sider, Tee or Thee, Coffee or Ale; but Canary that is neat and clean is the best to take it in; but Water is better than bad Wine, &c.

Price of this Elixir of Horse-Radish is One shilling a Glass.

Those that have occasion to make use of any of the before-mentioned Elixirs, may be furnished with them at the place aforesaid, and in no other place, till farther notice be given by me of other Sellers.

Each Glass is sealed with the Bleeding Pellican.

